NEW MEXICO'S SURVEYOR-GENERAL Although almost a stranger to us, we join the large majority of the press of New Mexico in defense of Geo. W. Julian, the newly appointed Surveyor-General of New Mexico, from the personal attacks made upon him by the Indianapolis Journal. That paper makes a personal attack upon Mr. Julian, in which it is stated that to Washington on business connected one Ezra Hayes, of Lawrenceburg, with his office as Secretary of the Indiana, an alleged personal triend of Territory, and while there he says he General Julian, is organizing a "deep will make his resignation pre-emptory laid plot" to grasp public domain upon the Department of the Interior. here in the interest of an immense Van is engaged largely in mining new cattle corporation. The land grabbers and thieves of New Mexico are doubtless in the plot, as the well known reputation of the new Surveyor-General, who has spent so many years in the public land service, and who is familiar with the rascalities perpetrated under past administrations, awakens in them the thought that his work of reform will ring in the ears of some of them. Gen. Julian never before heard of Ezra Hayes, and Thompson is also a myth to him.
